TALK OF THE TOWN

A nice selection of spring hats at Mrs. Birnie's, 4 Laurel street.—adv.

C. D. Waters, traffic manager for the Granite Manufacturers' association, is in Boston to-day on business.

Mr. Brown, the well-known druggist, has a cough syrup that is guaranteed to stop the cough; 35c a bottle.—adv.

Paul Cheney, a representative of the Cheney Paper company of Boston, is a business visitor in the city for a few days.

Joseph Nelson of the Barre Gas Co. has returned from Boston, where he has been for the past few days on business.

Baldness can be prevented easier than it can be cured. Stop falling hair and get rid of dandruff by using Parisian Sage, best for the hair. E. A. Brown sells it with money back guarantee.—adv.

The American Legion team of this city will engage the Newport Legion quintet in a battle royal for basketball supremacy to-night. The team leaves to-day for Newport and to-morrow will play in Northfield against the fast Co. F team.

Earl F. Drake, a prominent lawyer of Phoenix, Arizona, writes: "Within six months I gained 12 pounds and never felt better in my life. Every one remarks about my improved appearance." He says Bitro-Phosphate did it. Try it yourself. Obtainable at E. A. Brown & Co. drug store.—adv.

Spring thoughts faded into oblivion this morning when the early risers among the city's population commenced thawing out frozen water pipes and drains. King Winter demonstrated that he still had a punch left in him when he all but knocked the mercury through the bottom of the thermometer. Reports as to the temperature vary from 18 to 31 below. The first figures were found in the heart of the city and the 31 mark was registered at the R. L. Clark feed store.

A double-header will be the feature of to-night's basketball program in Barre. The Spaulding first team plays the Peoples academy team from Morrisville. This is an important league game and promises to be a fast one. The second team will be matched against Northfield. This will be the first opportunity to see Northfield perform in this city. The game starts at 7:30 to-night instead of 8 o'clock, and all those not wishing standing room, should make it a point to get there early.

February is the month in Barre when contributions for the Young Woman's Christian association work are to be taken and forwarded to headquarters and canvassers are already at work among the churches and citizens to secure whatever amount may be given for this work. Last year $250 was raised here and it is hoped that no smaller sum will be secured this year, and much more if possible. If anyone is missed in this canvass who is willing to give to the Y. W. C. A. work, they may communicate with Mrs. L. D. Martin, 11 Averill street, the chairman for Barre. The work with the girls of the state through this organization is similar to that of the Older Boys of Vermont, who recently held such a fine convention here. There are camps for the girls, state conferences and in the three years that the Y. W. C. A. has been working in Vermont, 1,400 girls have met in these state-wide conferences. Therefore the money given all over the state actually reaches this number of young women. This year's conference will be held in St. Johnsbury. A generous response on the part of Barre people would greatly gratify those in charge of the work here, would help the girls of the state through carrying on the work so well begun and would broaden the givers. Remember the strong, sturdy, alert boys who were here and the fine impression they gave to all and then do what you can along the same line for the girls, is the wish of the committee in charge.

Snowshoes and skiers about Barre have in the last week or two found pussy willows sufficiently grown to bear evidence to the fact that spring is approaching, even though no balmy breezes have yet shown to the human race that warmer weather was very near. Edward Halverson and Cortland Holley, two Barre youngsters, brought to The Times office their first find of the pussy willows yesterday.

WATERBURY

American Legion Notes.

Waterbury post, No. 59, was represented by nine members at that state conference of the American Legion, in Burlington, on February 10th, and the Women's auxiliary, by two members. Mrs. Anna L. Maxwell, president, and Mrs. Katherine L. Symes, treasurer. The nine men present were Post Commander David E. Symes, Post Adjutant Harold T. Hutchinson, Chaplain Dr. L. E. McKinlay, Don L. Robinson, Leonard L. Benway, George Rogers, William E. Collins, Arthur Barlow, and Robert Perry. The main conference was of the commanders, adjutants, and finance officers of the posts in the Vermont department, and was followed by a joint conference with the auxiliaries. National Commander "Jack" McNider, of Maske, Iowa, was present with department officers and gave a very interesting address before the gathering. A point of interest to all Vermonters is the fact that for the second time the Vermont department has won the national banner for carrying on its rolls a larger percentage of veteran residents in its territory. Waterbury post, No. 59, makes a challenge to all other posts in the state for the honor of holding this banner next year.

GODDARD NOTES.
